

Trainee trio work a treat

A Mandurah finance brokerage has paid the ultimate compliment to Challenger Institute's business courses, employing three recent graduates.

Jacinta Grondal, loans officer at Peel Finance Brokers, has gained significant recognition for her hard work and efforts in completing a traineeship studying for a Certificate IV in Business Administration through Challenger. Jacinta is now planning to start the Certificate IV in Financial Services (Finance/Mortgage Broking) and is giving thought to one day becoming a licensed finance broker.

Peel Finance principal, Terry Boag, said that to succeed in business these days, both you and your team needed to keep abreast of changes and constantly upgrade skills. He said he had found a very successful way to achieve this was to offer staff the opportunity to become a business trainee through Challenger Institute of Technology.

Kellie Jansen is the Rockingham office administration assistant. She was awarded Challenger Institute's student of the year award in the Certificate III of Office Administration and now, through a traineeship, is undertaking studies at Certificate IV level. Sharmane Cruz is also a trainee who started as a part-time employee in January on a trial basis. She has now gone full-time begun a traineeship for Certificate III in Business Administration.
